

Justice is the great and simple principle which is the secret of success in all government, as essential to the training of an infant, as to the control of a mighty nation.

Louis Haber Promoted To Captaincy

Louis Haber recently was promoted from first lieutenant to captain.

Captain Haber, with two degrees in biological chemistry from the College of the City of New York, was in civilian life, head of the biochemical laboratory of the New York Board of Education in Brooklyn.

Now on duty at the Los Angeles Port of Embarkation as assistant port and camp medical inspector, Captain Haber was assigned to this vital Army Transportation Corps installation in Oct., 1943, from his previous station, Tilton General Hospital, New Jersey.

Captain Haber makes his home at 907 Madrid ave., with his wife, Blanche, and small son.

Be honest but hate no one; overturn a man's wrongdoing but do not overturn him unless it must be done in the overturning of the wrong.

Nation-Wide Member Drive Being Conducted By Fair Fleet, Inc.

Fair Fleet, Inc., recently formed as a non-profit corporation to perform the preliminary functions leading toward establishment of the "World Fair on Ships," has set about organizing 1,000 leading business men throughout the United States, it was revealed this week.

Two Torrance men are working on the new organization, Edsel Newton, president of Fair Fleet, Inc., and Harry B. Lewis, who is general manager. Newton conceived the idea of the fair on ships, to go from port to port carrying exhibits which formerly have been centralized in one area, requiring the people to come to them. It has won nationwide support and has resulted in the formation of the non-profit company.

In its original bid for memberships, Fair Fleet, Inc., made the following announcement:

"Fair Fleet's activities may be favorably compared with those of a World Chamber of Commerce and a World Board of Trade combined—if such an organization existed—in that our main goal is to foster maximum world trade and enhance programs of better understanding between all nations. We are all participants in world trade in one form or another. We all have something at stake.

"In order for us to realize this worthwhile purpose, we are canvassing one thousand (1,000) outstanding industries, organizations, governments, individuals, et cetera, in an effort to raise a minimum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00) for the necessary and basic needs with which to attain our goal. Membership in the organization has been set at one hundred dollars ($100.00) minimum for life members. However, any number of memberships may be subscribed by any one of the classifications outlined above, as a means of underwriting the early success of the plan.

"Your financial and moral support will insure launching of our fleet within the near future. We invite your questions on any point not made quite clear, also your valuable suggestions and criticisms.

"Of course, members of the non-profit corporation will be proffered first opportunity of participating in the profit-sharing operating companies, to be formed as soon as financial and other conditions permit."

Ford Motor Company Plant Reconverted

The vast Ford Motor Company Long Beach assembly plant is ready to resume operations.

New assembly lines are set up and the interior of the big plant has been redecorated and repainted.

Carloads of materials for assembly of the postwar car are arriving daily, and before the end of the week the first cars will be moving down the assembly lines. Transportation difficulties have delayed a little the resumption of full operations.

As the work progresses more employees will be added until from 1500 to 1800 men and women will be at work, company officials said. Plans call for a peak output of 250 cars daily.

All the former employees are shown preference as the plant on Henry Ford ave. resumes operations although hundreds of new workers will be used after brief schooling.

Operation of the plant is expected to speed delivery of new cars in the coast area and a ready market will be awaiting, dealers report.

Restoring the plant to production was a huge task since assembly lines had been ripped out by the Army to make room for warehouse purposes.

More Japanese Arrive At WRA Barracks Here

Population of the Japanese at Lomita flight strip is increasing. About 400 Japanese reached Los Angeles by train Monday morning. They came from the Hart Mountain Camp in Wyoming.

About 200 were sent to the Los Angeles area, 122 to Burbank, 80 to Lomita, and 12 to Santa Monica.

Paul Robertson, head of the War Relocation Authority in Los Angeles, said that nearly all of these Japanese belong to the families of ex-service men. Very few of the Japanese in the United States Armed Forces are being released from service, Robertson said, as their knowledge of the Japanese language and Japanese customs are valuable to the Armed Forces.

Burbank was reported as fighting bitterly against the location of Japanese within its precincts.

Los Angeles is opposing the quartering of the Japanese in barracks and trailers in Glendale park, on grounds that it causes delay of extensive, long-range improvements.

Tranquil pleasures last the longest; we are not fitted to bear long the burden of great joys.

Okinawa Blast Described In Army Report

Cpl. Don A. Harding of Los Angeles, Cal. has been highly praised by Col. Thomas J. DuBose, Commanding Officer of a B-29 (Super Fortress) unit attached to the Eighth Air Force, for his work during and after the severely destructive typhoon which struck Okinawa Oct. 10.

"It was due to the extreme efforts of Cpl. Harding and others of this Wing that property losses were held to a minimum," Col. DuBose said. "His work, and that of his fellows, during and after the typhoon undoubtedly saved our men from serious injury or worse and saved thousands of dollars of government money. I cannot commend them too highly."

While property damage, despite the efforts of the men, was high none of the Wing personnel received more than minor injuries. Order has been restored to the unit's offices, and living quarters have been constructed in highly improved form following the storm which was one of the most severe ever recorded in this region.

During the approximately 24 hours the typhoon was at its height on Okinawa winds of more than 85 miles per hour were recorded, before the recording machinery blew down.

School Pupils Will Be Heard In Radio Talks

Station KRKD will broadcast a weekly program entitled "Youth Talks It Over," beginning Nov. 13 at 2 p. m.

"Going Steady" will be the theme of the program. Each program will present high school problems as they are discussed by students in their daily schedules.

Subsequent topics will include "To Neck Or Not To Neck," "How Late a Date," "To Marry or Not to Marry While in High School."

"How to Become More Popular," "Let's Form a Secret Society."

"It's The Little Things That Count," "After The War, Now What."

The radio department of Los Angeles City College and the 10th District, National Congress of Parents and Teachers are cooperating with KRKD in this project.

Students are selected for participation in the program on the basis of the suitability of their voices for the parts they are to take, it was stated.
